STC 0020 & MicroSoft Teams

ABSTRACT: In this talk, I will share my personal journey from academia to a successful career, emphasizing the pivotal role my PhD played. Straying from convention, I took a step off the beaten path and chose the road less traveled. My path has been riddled with bold decisions, hard-fought victories, and invaluable lessons learned. Join me as I share my ups and downs as I navigated the unconventional path to find my way to where I am today – a place I'm very happy to be.
